Hello Parents!!

Another busy week is done and we are now one week away from the end of the 3rd grading period!! Yikes!!!

We are wrapping up final projects and assignments for the grading period...and done before spring break. This means next week will be a bit lighter weight, both because of finishing up and because of the iREAD assessments. Hopefully this means everyone gets a good chance to catch up and even get so many fun projects done. We are still finishing the Hero/Villain Rings and getting ready to see the start of the 2023 Iditarod.

As we approach the end of the grading period and spring break a couple important items need to be addressed. If you and your family are leaving us early, please PLEASE let me know. I certainly am not one to judge...I simply need to know who's here until Friday and who's out.

Let's all have a great restful weekend and come back Monday ready for a final busy week before break. iREAD is on Tuesday and Wednesday...so if anyone is out, please let me/school know.

Have a great Weekend!!
