The topic of my research is the:

Grass House

The most significant characteristic of the

Grass House

is:

Grass houses are built with wood and are in the shape of a beehive. Grass houses are then covered in long prairie grass for warmth.

One of the most important things I learned about the

Grass house

was:

The Caddos lived in Grass houses. They were a Native American tribe. Their village had a sports field like our foot ball stadium. They also had a temple like our church. Grass houses could be more than 40 feet tall.

One of the

Grass houses

strengths was:

They were comfortable in warm spots such as the southern plains of Texas.

One of the

Grass houses

weaknesses was:

They were not good for cold weather like in the Northern plains.
