*IMPORTANT FORM FROM PURDUE FOR MR. RICHARDSON - LINK

Please complete the linked form for Mr. Richardson and our class.

Hello Parents,

Two days down...and wow...tired!!! I think many if not most left the room tired and ready for a weekend. It's always funny the return from winter break. Many are close to still in routine, but the school work zaps their energy, others are far from being in a routine and the early morning and work day completely wipes them out! We had a little of both categories...and everything in between. A weekend will do us all some good.

Next week we kick off a full week. This will bring all the new items forward and new work. We get to see how the week progresses and how much, if at all, we still need Thursday to catch up. This will all be part of the normal readjustment to school. It's not quite as tough as starting the school year...but still some adjustment.

Mr. Richardson and I have been working this entire past week on preparing...so we are pretty loaded up and ready for great work, new projects and a little fun along the way!! Now if the weather would just cooperate a little more...

Have a safe and happy weekend!!!!
