Hello Parents,

Another January week is in the books! It has been a wild weather ride. From the weekend snow fall to the impending snowmageddon...it's been a crazy week.

This week started some new projects. The most exciting was the fidget spinner project. This is yet another project with several parameters, but a fun final product. Next week we will begin the printing process...and hopefully you will see some great fidget spinners come home.

Another project that wrapped up this week was the billboard challenge. This was a LOT of fun in the process, but the videos were underwhelming. What we learned is going to make Billboards 2.0 even better!

A good week was had by most. This week was a busy productive week of good work and the start to some fantastic projects. We've enjoyed some great reading in Call of the Wild. We are nearing the end...but still have some tough chapters to complete.

We enjoyed the first episode of the new Carmen Sandiego series. Today marks the release of the first nine episodes. This was a fun break today!

Have a great three day weekend!! Be safe and make sure you are ready for snow!!
