Hello Parents,

First week of the last nine weeks done. Is it really this far along on the year? Are we actually this close to the end!?! It doesn't seem real.

We completed IREAD with little fuss or worry. Everyone seemed to feel good and it wasn't a terrible experience. ILEARN isn't until the end of April, so lots of time until then.

It's been a nice start back with postcard projects and Ozobots being the main focus.

Next week we get even more serious with the Ozobot programming, we kick off data recording, graphing and using spreadsheets (as actual spreadsheets!!) and so much more!!

We will get back to WordlyWise and dive into some great writing experiences. It's going to be a busy full week...but hopefully with just enough fun to keep the balance!!

I hope that everyone gets some good rest this weekend and starts to clear out the bugs and colds that are still lingering!! I think Spring might be here...lets get on with some good weather!!!
