Hello Parents,

We are done with another busy and productive week! The rewriting projects are coming along amazingly well! Several students have finished and recorded their stories. As soon as I have a chance to preview them I will share via ClassDojo.

We are about to begin our next 3D printing project. Several students have been creating interesting and creative items using cardboard and the laser, but it's about time to get things moving and start something new!

Four days seems like it'll be great...but I always seem to work five days of work into my week. That said, I ALWAYS monitor carefully so that I don't transfer that onto the class. Truly...I won't give the class 5 days of work for 4 days.

I do hope that everyone has something fun or at least relaxing planned for this long weekend. I am hoping to get up to school a little and catch up on checking in book projects and grading....but also hoping for sleep and something fun!!

BOOK PROJECTS: 5 projects due 2nd grading period. 5 due by Oct. 13. <http://mrbrantley.weebly.com/book-projects.html>
