Hello Parents,

And we are BACK!! Next week will be a full week. I doubt there will be any delays as the temps are on the rise over the weekend. Whatever precipitation occurs might cause some issues...but I doubt it's going to be too bad.

Next week we kick off several great things. We have daily work (okay, not that exciting), we have a new chapter in math (also, not too exciting), we are studying up and getting teams ready for the All about Ms, Moya Jeopardy game (this will be fun!!), we are collecting material for new-sew blankets, and there are other new projects and challenges that will pop up throughout the week!! We took it pretty slow this past two days...now it's back to normal...or at least 2nd semester new normal.

Ms. Moya is excited to be in the classroom and ready to get to work planning, teaching and grading. That said Purdue has several startup assignments that will have her a bit busy. The first one you probably have already seen. There is a permission form for videoing in the classroom. This is only for Purdue class use and will not be made public in any way. Please try to return this ASAP. I will attached a copy in the newsletter post and on ClassDojo. The second assignment will be a survey of interests and learning styles. This will occur in the classroom, probably on Google Classroom. This is similar to my beginning of the year survey, but directed at the students.

I look forward to a full week...but I know that we are ALL going to be dragging by the end of the week. Please help your students return to "normal" weekday bedtimes and habits. We are all in this together.

Round 3 of the great book projects have started. They are due the Friday before Spring Break! Make sure your student is following the guidelines: <http://mrbrantley.weebly.com/book-projects.html>

BOOK PROJECTS:

There are 5 projects due each grading period. That means 5 due by March 9th.
