Hello Parents,

Four days...done! 1st grading period...done. Wow , time flies.
We have done some great work this grading period. It's hard to believe that nine weeks has already passed. We've worked through a few good projects and now we are ready to get into another great grading period! Fall break first!

Sumdog contest ends tonight (Thursday) @ 8pm. We are holding down first and second with Mr. Stahl's class...and it's close between our two classes. Several students have used up their 1000 questions, so they are done and out...but many still have questions left and can earn points!!

Report cards are coming out Friday the 19th. I don't require parent conferences, but I am always happy to meet and talk. The first grading period in 3rd grade can be a rough one. Sometimes the settling in process takes some time and unfortunately some grades will reflect that. It's my job to make sure your student is on track and steer them towards success...but sometimes that means recovering from a few rough grades.

In this 2nd grading period we are already started with multiplication, great language arts, reading groups and many projects. We are soon to start our third 3D printing project. This is a new one...and I'm excited! We will have research projects coming soon, so be watching for letters home and the opportunity to let your inner 3rd grader loose!! In class projects will continue with MinecraftEDU, 3D printing, laser projects and more. It'll be a busy great fall....hopefully minus the 90* weather.

We didn't get the book done, but had a discussion. This counted toward either completing this grading period projects or a head start on next grading period. We will work on more this coming grading period.

Don't forget ART TO REMEMBER orders need to be in by next Tuesday Oct. 16th.
