Hello Parents,

And the first week back from Spring break is done....WOW, are we tired. Ms. Moya has had a great week and another next week that looks to be great!! I will be back in the room for IREAD. I get the honor of reading ALL the directions. So be confident knowing that your child will enjoy my soothing voices for 3 to 4 hours during the wonderful tests of IREAD.

Next week we have several mini in class projects and the wrap up of other great projects. These are still a little hush-hush due to the fact that some may be gifted...but trust me, Ms. Moya has even blown me away with this project!!!

Postcards are nearing the end. The wall is filling up and it looks pretty awesome!! With the swap for bulletin boards with Mrs. Hollis, we aren't tucked in a corner...but in the hall right by music. It gets lots of attention as it's seen by nearly the entire school!!

We are working on another SumDog contest. This one is a National level contest, so know that we may not come in first...but I believe either top ten or top five win new subscriptions. Let's get our SumDog on!!

Round 4...the final round of the great book projects are due May 18th. They are due the last Friday before school is out. I will be offering SEVERAL creative and fun options to make these last five projects attainable to ALL. This is the final Friday before the year ends. <http://mrbrantley.weebly.com/book-projects.html>
