Hello Parents,

Well...another week flew past. With being out so much last week I've played catch up with several students...chased down some missing work, and finally...finally think I have everyone caught up and am starting to get grades entered and showing that your kids have been working hard...and completing so much each week.

Everyone still has the opportunity to design and create a totem pen. A couple have designs that need review and adjustments...but that can still happen next week. No worries!!

It's been busy...I feel like this friday was like sliding into first base with my hair on fire...

We completed ISTEP practice...no one died. We aren't worried...it's just a test. Next week will come and go and all will be alright.

Iditarod is coming NEXT WEEK!!! This is something to get excited about. We will be reading about the history and the origin story of the Iditarod and get ready to track race teams when they leave and set out on the course next weekend. It isn't a race like any other...it truly is the Last Great Race!!

There is one project that has been a tradition of Spring Break. PLEASE PLEASE PLEASE let me know if you and your child are leaving early and will miss any days the week prior to Spring break. I want to make sure everyone has the materials and is able to participate in this fun project!

Have a great weekend!! :-)
