Hello Parents,

Another wacky week flies by!! I have truly enjoyed the parent meetings, and am looking forward to meeting with several more parents next week! It's been a terribly busy time with the grading period ending and students in a rush to complete book projects and every assignment. It's a time that is relieving for some and stressful for others...mostly just stressful for me!!

Next week is a 4-day week!! We end on Thursday and have our fall break Friday and Monday. FOUR DAY WEEKEND!!! I hope that many of you have fun things planned, mini family trips, Purdue Space Day, and anything else that will get you out and have fun with your family!

In class we will be functioning mostly normal, but will obviously be shortened and thus require spelling to be studied and completed early, vocabulary story written and completed early, and a few other minor items done before Friday...but the entire week will be a lighter week, and hopefully a relaxing segway into break.

One item on the list of THINGS TO DO...is the permission for students to watch "Holes". This is a film version of the book we completed reading aloud with Mrs. Hollis' class. The 2nd graders will not be watching it, but I know that several students would love to view this film. I will send a link to a google form to survey for permission.

Have a GREAT weekend and we will have a wonderful short week next week!!!
