Hello Parents,

This week has flown past, and we have had a very good time. We have reviewed our reading and language arts and many students are working on or done with their mid-year benchmark assessment. I am very happy with many of the scores that have already come in...the class seems to have retained information and regurgitated it well 😊

This week brought great times with discussing and experiencing some holiday traditions. Mrs. Slamovich was VERY kind and brought in wonderful latkes that she prepared and cooked for us. The class was craving more...as was I. The room smelled of latkes for several days...we ALL enjoyed the wonderful food, and the great examples of Menorahs and Aaron's sharing of the words said before lighting the Menorah. I am always enjoy the experiences.

We have another review week...NO SPELLING, NO VOCAB. We will continue with math topic 5...although I doubt we will be considering a test prior to the break. I do have a few fun times planned for next week. We are still wrapping up, so several students are on my list for getting a couple items cleared before we completely check out. I hope that robotics and maybe some other types of programming may occur...but academics first.

I know of a couple students leaving early, but PLEASE let me know ASAP if you are planning to leave early next week. I just want to make sure that every is given adequate time to complete quizzes and remaining assignments before the semester ends.

Have a great weekend!!
